

Published on Adagp (<https://www.adagp.fr>)

Home > The ministry of culture

Due to the importance of managing copyright in the protection and promotion of culture and creation, the articles and general rules of royalty collecting and distribution companies are strictly monitored by the French Ministry of Culture.

The ministry thus verifies that the articles of association comply with the current regulations and ensures that none of their provisions are likely to prevent effective and transparent management of royalties.
