

L'ALPHABET COCASSE & ILLUSTRÉ

L'AGRUME

"A classic exercise in youth literature, the alphabet is here renewed by Anne-Hélène Dubray, who affirms a beautiful creativity, a great coherence between images full of pep and a text itself imaged"

and poetic." The jury praised "This stimulating book [that] invites to the imagination and unfolds it, thus offering the reader a space for his own constructions."

The jury also awarded a special mention to illustrator Juliette Barbanègre for her book "Histoire du pommier qui rêvait d'être un sapin ", published by Editions Seuil Jeunesse. The jury highlighted "the quality and singularity of her illustrious work, very promising, and the richness of her universe, eminently personal".

Anne-Hélène Dubray receives an endowment of the ADAGP of 5000 euros.

The laureates will both benefit from a portrait filmed and broadcast on the site of Arte. They will also be honored on the walls of the ADAGP from November 7 to December 17, 2019 and during the evening Revelations at Cenquatre-Paris.
